Hungary Labor Chiefs Held

Death Decreed For Violations Of Martial Law

VIENNA, Dec. 12 (AP)—Hungary's Communist government—smarting under a general strike and continued street demonstrations—decided tonight mandatory death for all persons convicted of crimes under its newly issued martial law decree.

At the same time—in a broadcast from strike-bound Budapest—it identified two of the labor leaders arrested in the Communists' attempt to stem the surge of popular feeling against the Soviet-supported premier, Janos Kadar.

The two were Sandor Racz, president of the Budapest workers Central Council, and Sandor Bali, a council member. They were charged with numerous offenses, including the organization of "provocative" strikes, but did not seem to fall under the martial law decree.

Tension "Almost Unbearable"

"Both (Racz and Bali) have been playing a leading role in turning the Budapest Central Council into a tool of the counter-revolution," the radio announcement said. "They have attempted with every means to hamper the restoration of order, tranquility and peaceful life. Both had close contacts with the (American-backed) Radio Free Europe and with western correspondents, whom they informed incorrectly in a way to compromise the Hungarian working class and the government."

A Hungarian labor leader newly escaped to Austria said the tension within Budapest, torn for 50 days by military and political fighting, "is almost unbearable."

"The big drama is just beginning," he said. "The storm can come at any moment."

Back-Handed Tribute
Even Radio Budapest, a Kadar propaganda agency, paid back-handed tribute to the efficacy of the strike, called by workers' councils which the government had ordered dissolved.

"The labor movement has never seen such a strike," it said, quoting the government newspaper Nepszabadsag. It pictured factories surrounded by dissidents, railwaymen afraid to work because of bandits (strikers), street cars stopped by gunfire.

Baltimore Fire Snarls Traffic

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12 (AP)—Fire broke out in electrical wiring of the 10-story Equitable Building in downtown Baltimore today. The approximately 1,500 occupants of the office building were evacuated.

Firemen said damage was not great, and the main result was a colossal traffic jam at the evening rush hour.

Acting Deputy Fire Chief Carroll Hand said the fire broke out in a series of closets on the fourth through seventh floors of the building, but the exact cause was not known. It said it might have been a short, but the closets also were used for storage of rags, paper and cleaning equipment.

Most of the fire was out in 20 minutes, but there were occasional flashes of flame for about an hour. Firemen used chemical extinguishers, Hand said.

277 More Refugees Being Flown To U.S.

MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 12 (AP)—The airlift of Hungarian refugees to the United States tonight moved into its second day after a six-hour delay caused by unusually high winds in Scotland.

The first of five planes took off from Munich Airport for McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. With four more planes following every hour on the hour, a total of 277 refugees were leaving here tonight for the United States.

Plane Wreckage In Which 8 Died

One engine and a wing of a twin-engine Phillips Petroleum Co. plane smolders in a ranch pasture near Bartlesville, Okla., where it crashed yesterday, killing eight persons. All the dead were Phillips employees, top-ranked of whom was A. M. Rippel, 61, manager of the company's natural gas division. (AP Photofax)

Council Backs Japan As 80th Member Of U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—The Security Council today unanimously approved the admission of Japan as the 80th member of the U.N. It disapproved Communist Outer Mongolia.

The Soviet Union, which had vetoed Japan's membership application four times in four years, withheld its veto this time.

The Council's recommendation in favor of Japan went to the General Assembly, where it is expected to be ratified by well over the necessary two-thirds vote Monday or Tuesday.

Shigemitsu U. S.-Bound
The Assembly will delay this action until Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu can arrive and address it. He is expected in New York Friday.

Shigemitsu and Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Nicolai Fedorenko exchanged documents in Tokyo today ratifying an Oct. 19 Moscow agreement to end the 11-year-old state of war between Japan and the Soviet Union. In connection with the agreement, Russia promised to back Japan for U.N. membership.

"Fulfillment Of Aspirations"
Shigemitsu commenting later on the Council vote, said Japan's entry into the U.N. was "the fulfillment of our fervent national aspirations of 11 long years."

He added in a statement that he was leaving for New York tonight to speak to the Assembly. He said he would thank countries that had supported Japan's admission, "explain our basic national policy of peace" and "declare to all the world" Japan's readiness to participate actively in the U.N.'s work.

One-Third Of Goal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The American Red Cross said today it has collected about one-third of its five million dollar Hungarian relief goal.

College Football Player Slain As Prank Backfires

CARBONDALE, Ill., Dec. 12 (AP)—A college prank that backfired sent a freshman to jail today on a charge of murdering a Southern Illinois University football star.

The victim was Robert Batura, 19, of Danvers, Mass. State's Atty. William G. Ridge-way said he signed a warrant charging murder against Fred Sinroll, 20, of Sterling, Ill. Sinroll appeared before Police Magistrate Roy Hall of Carbondale and was ordered held without bond in Jackson County jail at Murphysboro. Batura was shot and killed by a shotgun blast to the head early today. The shooting occurred in a second-floor sleeping room he shared with Sinroll and Harry Hillman, 19, of Park Ridge, Ill., and John Abramovitch, 21, of Haverhill, Mass. The room is two blocks off the campus. Hillman and Abramovitch said

Big Navy Missile Crashes In Test

EDWARDS, Calif., Dec. 12 (AP)—A Navy guided missile somehow broke contact with the jet plane that was guiding it on a test shot yesterday. It streaked wildly across the desert and crashed 120 miles away on the edge of Death Valley.

The 33-foot Regulus surface-to-surface missile was undergoing a routine test under electronic control from the accompanying plane when it got away. The jet traced it to its crash site and a crew was sent to pick up the pieces.

The devices are being tested at this Mojave desert base under the accelerated missile program. They are built to permit aerial control by chase planes in order to conserve test costs. The planes ordinarily land the missiles on remote air strips.

Fritchey To Quit Demo Party Job

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Clayton Fritchey said today he will resign as deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee about Jan. 1 to explore prospects for establishing a "new journalistic enterprise."

Fritchey said he and Philip M. Stern, recently resigned director of research for the committee, will join in the new undertaking. Both formerly were on the staff of the New Orleans Item.

Fritchey, who was press chief for the presidential election campaign of Adlai E. Stevenson this year, told a reporter he and Stern have several newspaper projects under consideration, but are not committed to any one.

One of the projects under study is understood to be the launching of a new type of newspaper. It would be national in scope and probably published in the greater New York area.

Stern is now on a trip around the world. His place on the committee will be filled Jan. 1 by William B. Welsh, legislative assistant to Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.) since 1952.

Railroads' Pay Offer Rejected By Brotherhood

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which claims to represent 135,000 operating railroad workers, today rejected wage proposals offered by the nation's principal railroads.

The union likewise refused to submit its wage and other contract demands to arbitration.

No immediate strike was threatened. Vernon W. Satterwhite, assistant to the union's president, William P. Kennedy, said that no strike vote has been taken.

The union and 140 railroads have been in negotiation on a new contract with representatives of the National Railway Mediation Board serving as mediators.

Fact-Finding Likely
Leverett Edwards, a member of the mediation board, said he proposed arbitration of the dispute but was turned down by representatives of the union at a meeting not attended by railroad representatives.

The mediation board is expected to notify President Eisenhower that an emergency exists and to request appointment of a fact-finding board to investigate the dispute and make recommendations for a settlement.

Basis For Rejection
Satterwhite said the union turned down the railroads' offer of a 2 1/2-cent-an-hour wage increase on these grounds:

The railroads declined to consider union demands for seven paid holidays; insisted on a three-year moratorium on wage increases or decreases or changes in working conditions that would affect payroll costs; refused to reduce hours of dining car stewards; refused to give "serious consideration" to demands for additional wages for union members employed in short turn-around passenger service.

Ike Agreed To, Then Called Off Big 3 Talks

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Post-Dispatch said today President Eisenhower first agreed to, then called off a Washington meeting with Prime Minister Eden of Britain and Premier Mollet of France during tension over the British-French invasion of Egypt.

The newspaper, in a copyrighted story from Washington by Marquis W. Childs, said Eden asked for the meeting in a telephone call to the President Nov. 8, two days after Britain, France and Israel had agreed to a cease-fire.

The story, quoting an unnamed "source of unquestioned authority," said President Eisenhower agreed to the meeting at first but called it off two and one-half hours later in favor of letting Britain and France "stew in their own juice."

Plan For New NATO Powers Wins Support

U.S. Reserves Right To Act Without Any Prior Consultation

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—North Atlantic Alliance leaders agreed tentatively today to strengthen the treaty organization with wider political and economic powers.

But Secretary of State Dulles served notice that the United States reserves full freedom of action in defense of its vital interests without consulting its NATO allies in advance.

A spokesman for the conference of NATO foreign ministers said they endorsed the outlines of recommendations by Halvard Lange of Norway, Gaetano Martino of Italy and Lester B. Pearson of Canada, members of a committee who have been studying political and economic possibilities for NATO.

Action Delayed

But, the spokesman said, action on their recommendations was delayed by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano, who said they wanted to submit amendments.

A high NATO source said Dulles told the 14 other foreign ministers of NATO member countries it would be unfair to the 30 other nations with which the United States has mutual defense pacts if Washington could not act in other parts of the world without consulting NATO.

The report by Lange, Martino and Pearson—called NATO's "Three Wise Men"—recommended that "before any new policy is adopted which might affect NATO, or a political pronouncement is made, there should be consultations."

Protest Anticipated

Dulles, the source said, told the closed ministerial meeting he approved of this principle and hoped it would be adopted. But, if taken literally, Dulles continued, this and another sentence stating "there cannot be unity in defense and disunity in foreign policy" both go too far.

Diplomats in the meeting were quick to point out that Dulles' statement appeared likely to cause a protest in view of U. S. resentment when Britain and France took military action against Egypt without prior consultation with the United States or any other NATO member.

Suit To Block Merger Filed

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Federal government, backing up its earlier threat, went to court today to try to block the merger of two of the nation's biggest steel companies.

A monopoly suit filed in federal court here was aimed at the 2 1/2-billion-dollar consolidation of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

The two firms yesterday announced plans to merge, with Bethlehem common stock being used to buy out Youngstown. It would make the combined organization second only to U.S. Steel in the industry.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell said in Washington that the government intended to go into federal court to try to thwart the merger.

The Justice Department promptly followed up this threat by lodging a suit in which it said the proposed merger "may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly, in violation of . . . the Clayton Act."

U.S. Presses Syria For Pipeline Repair

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The United States is reported urging the Syrian government to allow speedy repair of the big oil pipeline from Iraq which has been sabotaged in four key places in Syria.

American diplomats are understood to believe that by flying emergency supplies into Syria a 30 to 40 per cent flow of Iraq oil to the Mediterranean could be restored within two months.

This partial flow, when added to emergency oil shipments from the United States, would go a long way, it is believed, in helping Western Europe overcome the critical oil shortage now facing it.

About 550,000 barrels of crude oil daily flowed from the Iraq oil fields at Kirkuk across Syria to the Port of Banyas on the Mediterranean before Middle East fighting erupted six weeks ago.

Nixon To Make Austrian Trip

Vice President Plans On-Spot Refugee Study

SENTENCED — Yugoslav Milovan Djilas (above) was sentenced to three years imprisonment at hard labor for spreading hostile propaganda, Belgrade radio announced yesterday. AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 12 (AP)—At President Eisenhower's request, Vice President Nixon will go to Austria next week to study the Hungarian refugee problem and recommend what further aid the United States can extend.

Announcing this tonight, the White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, left open the question of whether the trip may lead to bringing into this country more than the 21,500 refugees now planned.

The answer to that question, Hagerty said in response to inquiries, will have to await Nixon's return and a report to the President and Congress.

Nixon will leave for Austria Tuesday and return to Washington Dec. 23.

Relief Committee Set Up

Eisenhower tonight also announced creation of a 15-member presidential committee on Hungarian relief to assure full coordination of the refugee relief program in this country.

The President named Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Great Britain, as honorary chairman of the committee. Tracy S. Voorhees, recently appointed Eisenhower's personal representative in charge of coordinating the relief program, will serve as active chairman.

A statement issued at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here said the purpose of the Nixon trip is consultation with American, Austrian and international agency officials "as to the problems relating to relief and resettlement of Hungarian refugees."

Nixon To Visit Refugees

The White House added that Nixon also will visit as many Hungarian refugees as possible. Austria, to which more than 100,000 victims of Soviet brutality have fled, has approved the visit.

After the trip, the White House said, Nixon will report to the President and Congress, when it reconvenes, "on the full scope of what is necessary and practicable."

Nixon also will recommend "what further steps should be taken by the United States for the relief of this suffering."

Seven Freed In Flogging Case

BUSHENELL, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP)—Seven white men today were acquitted of flogging Jesse Woods, a Negro, when the state's case collapsed. The chief prosecutor complained his main witnesses changed their stories.

It was a mass directed verdict of acquittal ordered by Circuit Judge T. G. Futch and came after state Atty. A. P. Buie asked that four of the seven accused be freed. The defense asked dismissal of the charges against the other three.

Futch said the state failed to prove the men were guilty of aggravated assault and false imprisonment of Woods, who was taken from the nearby Wildwood City jail and flogged Oct. 28. The Negro had been arrested on city charges and police said he made a "hello there, baby" remark to a white school teacher.

Dulles Approves

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today warmly approved the Security Council vote to admit Japan to the United Nations.

Sit-Down Strike Forces Haiti's President To Quit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—and demanded that he step out and restore the democratic, constitutional government.

Almost without disorder, they won their fight. A sit-down strike began shortly after the change. Despite Magloire's efforts to end the strike, it spread until today Port au Prince, a city of 170,000, was paralyzed except for water and electric service.

The State Department reported earlier today unusually large crowds in the streets, but said they were orderly. It said tonight conditions continued calm.

Magloire, confronted with serious economic troubles, apparently had tried to handle the situation by resigning last Thursday as president, and becoming provisional president with strong-man powers over the country. But the people in Port au Prince rebelled.

Asia-Africa Bloc Is Split In 55-8 Vote

Assembly Again Demands Soviets Leave Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP)—The U. N. Assembly overwhelmingly condemned the Soviet Union tonight for crushing Hungarian independence and called on Moscow to withdraw its armed forces immediately from the revolt-torn land.

It was the first time such a judgment had been returned by the Assembly against any U.N. member.

The vote in favor of an American-backed resolution slapping the Soviet Union for its actions in Hungary was 55 in favor, eight opposed and 13 abstentions. The Soviet bloc voted against the resolution with the exception of Hungary which was absent.

The voting split the Asian-African bloc. V. K. Krishna Menon of India abstained but other members such as Burma, Ceylon, Iran, Lebanon, Libya, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Thailand, and Tunisia voted for the resolution. It was the sharpest split in this bloc yet to be registered in the Assembly.

Russia Counterattacks

The Soviet Union angrily denounced the resolution and began a drive to bring changes against the United States for allegedly intervening in the Soviet bloc countries. This will likely be debated later by the Assembly in the course of its regular work.

By its decision the Assembly called for the third time for the Russians to get out of Hungary. This time it added the judgment against the Soviet Union in the following words:

"Declares that, by using its armed force against the Hungarian people, the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is violating the political independence of Hungary."

"Condemns the violation of the charter by the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in depriving Hungary of its liberty and independence and the Hungarian people of the exercise of their fundamental rights."

Dag Given Free Hand

The Assembly asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who has been trying unsuccessfully to go to Budapest to start U. N. relief work, to "take any initiative that he deems helpful in relation to the Hungarian problem." This left it up to Hammarskjold to decide what to do. It was inserted at the last minute to block a proposal by India, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia for the Assembly to instruct Hammarskjold to go to Moscow in an effort to achieve a solution.

The request made by the United States and the 19 other countries in their resolution merely asks Secretary General Hammarskjold to take any action he deems necessary in the problem in accord with the principles of the Charter. In brief, it leaves Hammarskjold to decide what he wants to do about the situation and leaves him a clear field.

Lodge rejected the proposal of Burma, Ceylon, India and Indonesia that Hammarskjold be instructed to go to Moscow if necessary. Lodge said Hammarskjold already has full authority under the Charter to take such steps as he felt necessary.

Eight Perish In Plane Crash

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Dec. 12 (AP)—Eight employees of the Phillips Petroleum Company, including a pilot and co-pilot, were killed today when a company plane crashed and burned five miles southeast of Bartlesville.

The plane, a twin-engine Lockheed Lodestar, crashed in an open field when engine trouble developed minutes after takeoff from Bartlesville city airport.

The bodies recovered from the twisted wreckage of the craft, were identified as: A. J. Rippel, head of the company's natural gas division; George Sneed, a company attorney; W. C. Reed, C. W. Binckley, D. F. Mayfield and Donald Young, all members of the natural gas division; Joe Bowers, pilot, and R. E. Ulrich, co-pilot. All were from Bartlesville.

W. J. Jarvis, Bartlesville chief of police, said the plane was only 1,000 feet in the air and that witnesses reported they heard "an odd noise" and then saw the craft go into a spin and nose dive into the open field.

Va. Senators, Battle Oppose Butler Plan For Advisory Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (P)—Efforts to create a new advisory committee for the Democratic party received another setback today when former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia refused to join it.

Battle's position was buttressed by Virginia's two Democratic senators, both of whom criticized National Chairman Paul M. Butler's move to set up a 20-man group to "coordinate and advance efforts" on behalf of Democratic programs and principles.

"The whole movement is very ill-advised, will create confusion with the advisory group. They and conflict and be of no value," Sen. Harry F. Byrd said at his home in Berryville, Va.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson told Butler in a letter that Democrats of Congress "would resent an out-in Congress are in a better position side committee telling them what than any party advisory committee to make decisions on legislation."

Byrd and Robertson were not asked to serve on the committee but an invitation was extended to Battle, who played a leading part in legislation.

199 Hungarians Receive Warm U.S. Welcome

AP Reporter Arthur Edson flew to Munich, Germany, to come back with the Hungarian refugees to be brought into the United States by Military Air Transport Service.

By ARTHUR EDSON
CAMP KILMER, N. J., Dec. 12 (P)—The first Hungarians flying here on Operation Safe Haven today got a warm welcome from the President's right hand man on refugee problems.

"Acting on behalf of President Eisenhower," Tracy S. Voorhees told the 199 Hungarians as they arrived at McGuire Air Force Base 45 miles south of here. "Welcome to the United States of America."

Voorhees, who is special coordinator of the Hungarian refugee program, assured this nation's newest residents, "you have come among friends."

These are the first of 9,500 Hungarians who are being flown here by Military Air Transport Service. Other Hungarians, of course, have been brought in on commercial flights and still others are coming by boat.

It's a long and weary trip from Munich, where these refugees took off yesterday, most of them on the first flight of their lives.

Yet the courage it took to resist the Communists and then to strike out on their own across the Austrian border was evident to anyone who was along with them on this ride.

For the Hungarians, many of whom don't know a soul in America nor one word in the English language, remained cheerful on a journey that would be tiring under the most ideal conditions.

Anne Arundel Negro Wins School Fight

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 12 (P)—An Anne Arundel County Negro girl has won the right to attend an otherwise all-white elementary school at Ferndale.

Dr. David S. Jenkins, county schools superintendent, today reversed a previous decision which denied admission to six-year-old Jill Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, who live near Ferndale.

The Browns appealed Jenkins' original decision to the State Board of Education and were granted a hearing Nov. 28. The State board still has the case under consideration, but Jenkins' announcement today is expected to eliminate the need for a ruling.

Nehru Urges U.S. Deal With Russia

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 12 (P)—Prime Minister Nehru said tonight the United States should "take the bull by the horns and deal with Russia" on a Middle East settlement.

He gave the impression at a news conference, though he did not say so specifically, that he believes an agreement might result in halting the stream of arms to the Middle East.

"Any kind of big or little, regional or general, settlement which the United States and Russia can achieve will ease tensions and make a Middle East solution easier," he continued.

The Indian Prime Minister received resident American news correspondents at his elegant official residence just four days before beginning official and personal talks in Washington with President Eisenhower and other U. S. officials.

Boy Killed By Polio After Three Shots "Rare Type"

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (P)—The National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis said today the death of a boy from polio after he received the full three doses of Salk vaccine was the first known case of its kind.

"He was simply one of those rare types that do not respond to vaccine," a foundation spokesman said.

He said the death of James Thomson, 15, of Seattle, Wash., was the first polio fatality known among 43 million youngsters who have received at least one shot, including seven million fully immunized.

The boy died Nov. 29, about three months after he got his last shot in the series.

The foundation spokesman emphasized that this time lag made it impossible for there to be any connection between the vaccine, and the boy's contracting of the disease.

"We've said from the beginning that the vaccine was not 100 percent effective," he said. "Some people, a small fraction simply do not respond to vaccine of any kind."

"They don't build up antibodies. The vaccine didn't help this boy, or hurt him. He just wasn't touched by the vaccine."

Janitor Arrested For Hurling Lye In Woman's Face

ARLINGTON, Va., Dec. 12 (P)—The arrest of a janitor accused of throwing lye into the face of an Arlington woman has been announced by the FBI.

Arrested in a Newark, N.J., rooming house last night was John Harris, 31-year-old Negro. He is charged with hurling the lye into the face of Mrs. Ralph C. Boyd, 33-year-old mother of three, while she was standing outside her Arlington apartment door Nov. 3. Police said Harris had complained that Mrs. Boyd had twice walked across floors he had just waxed.

Mrs. Boyd still is in Arlington hospital and may have to remain there another two months. Doctors said the vision in her left eye is fairly good but that she can barely see with the other.

The FBI said Harris was known also as Lemuel Howard Kelly and has a criminal record.

Woman Beaten, Tenant Seized

SALISBURY, Md., Dec. 12 (P)—A 61-year-old woman was found bound and badly beaten in her Salisbury home today. A man who rented a house from her was arrested by police late in the day in Delaware.

Police Chief William J. Chatham said Mrs. C. Howard Smith was found on the floor of her living room, tied to a metal cot. A neighbor woman had noticed blinds drawn and mail still in the mailbox.

Her face "beaten to a pulp." Mrs. Smith was in critical condition late today in Peninsula General Hospital.

Chief Chatham said George Williams Records, 34-year-old Salisbury laborer, was arrested at the Laurel, Del. home of his father by Salisbury police and state police of Maryland and Delaware.

Further Raids By IRA Feared

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Dec. 12 (P)—Fears of new raids by the outlawed Irish Republican Army sent royal Ulster police and troops scouring the mountainous frontier with the Irish Republic tonight.

Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough said evidence indicated raids early Wednesday by roving bands of gunmen originated in Eire. He accused the Irish Republic of failing to cooperate in checking the outlaws.

Police arrested five men after an estimated 150 raiders swooped over the frontier, dynamited a British radio transmitter and two other buildings, set fire to a court-house and tried to seize a military barracks. Damage was estimated by Ulster police at a million dollars.

Wisner Guilty In Clerk Death

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12 (P)—Edward D. Wisner was convicted of second degree murder tonight in Baltimore City Criminal Court.

An all-male jury returned its verdict about 9:30 p.m., after deliberating four hours. Wisner showed no emotion when the verdict was given.

Judge Joseph L. Carter deferred sentencing pending a possible motion for a new trial. Second-degree murder carries a penalty of up to 18 years in prison.

Defense counsel asked that the jury be polled. Clerk James A. Cole asked each man if he agreed with the verdict as read and each answered affirmatively.

Wisner, a 21-year-old seaman accused of murdering a senior city clerk in an argument over a narcotics deal, denied today he had ever discussed narcotics with the victim, Sidney Lee Cromwell.

Cromwell, 42, was found dead in a wooded area June 10. Authorities first believed he had been beaten to death the previous night but later said he had been fatally shot.

Questioned by defense attorney Leonard Freedman, Wisner testified he and Cromwell "were always the best of friends" and frequently borrowed money from each other.

Washington Builder, Friend Of Ike, Dies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (P)—Charles H. Tompkins, prominent Washington builder and a friend of President Eisenhower, died of cancer today in George Washington University Hospital. He was 73.

Tompkins' firm, the Charles H. Tompkins Construction Co., remodeled Eisenhower's farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., and built scores of Washington's landmarks.

These included the east and west executive offices of the White House, the Lincoln Memorial Remnant of a mandate from voters of this state" who had approved Court House. A native of Baltimore, he lived in Washington virtually all of his life.

Sheriff's Pay Hike Is Upheld

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12 (P)—Sheriff Joseph C. Deegan today won a court suit restoring his $10,000-a-year salary which had been cut by the city last summer.

The ruling in the sheriff's favor was handed down by Circuit Judge Joseph R. Byrnes who overruled City Solicitor Thomas N. Biddison's decision that the sheriff's salary should be cut from $10,000 to $7,500.

The mixup began when the mayor and city council increased their salaries. The Court of Appeals ruled the increases were in violation of the State Constitution which prohibits elected officials from raising their salaries during terms of office.

After the Court of Appeals ruling, Biddison held that it applied not only to the mayor and city council, but to himself, the chief engineer, the sheriff and numerous other department heads who had been given salary increases.

Judge Byrnes held, however, that the $2,500 salary increase for the sheriff was granted by the 1955 Legislature and was "the fulfillment of a mandate from voters of this state" who had approved eliminating the $7,500 ceiling on the sheriff's salary.

State's Federal Road Fund Allotment May Be Hiked

HAGERSTOWN, Dec. 12 (AP)—[today that Maryland's population first allotment. Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of growth may entitle it to more] The state has been earmarked the State Roads Commission, said federal highway funds than its for $85,850,000 during the next three years as its share of the new federal highway improvement program. The federal government is to review the state allotments after 1959.

Bonnell, at a meeting of the commission, said Maryland's population growth is exceeding every state east of the Mississippi except Florida. The population now is an estimated 2,669,000 and by 1975, the projected end of the federal highway fund, it is predicted it will reach 3,906,000, Bonnell observed.

The commission's meeting was held in conjunction with breaking of ground for a railroad overpass to raise the tracks over US 40, the first road in the country to have received federal aid.

The overpass, said Gov. Mc Keldin, is a project which "has been dreamed of, talked about, planned, postponed and re-planned since at least the year 1910."

"Today we act to break the Hagerstown traffic bottleneck, a nightmare to its citizens and both a nemesis and nuisance to through traffic."

"Gone will be the delays, the irritations, the wasted man hours and the long lines of cars and trucks on both sides of two rail crossings."

Mohammedans recite their chief prayer five times daily.

Multiple Crash Injures Five

EDGEWOOD, Md., Dec. 12 (AP)—Five persons were injured today when one truck slammed into another and drove it into a school bus and an auto.

Hospitalized was James H. Stark, 30, of Philadelphia, a truck driver. He was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore with probable hip and leg fractures.

Another truck driver and three school girls were treated and released.

Carl Sandos, 36, of Gardner, Mass., the other truck driver, was treated for head cuts.

Three Edgemere High School students, Marjorie Banks, Patricia Doss and Carolyn Brewer, all 12, were treated for minor injuries. They were the only pupils on the bus.

State Police said the truck driven by Sandos was stopped behind the bus, driven by John Owens of Joppa, when Stark's truck rammed it into the rear of the bus and then into a car operated by Warren C. Todd of Havre De Grace.

The bus driver and auto operator were not hurt.

Missionary To Be Guest Speaker

Miss Margaret Lamberth, who has a life appointment from the Baptist board, as a missionary to Nigeria, Africa, will be guest speaker at the Christmas meeting of the WSCS of Centre Street church today at 1:30. Women from all Baptist churches have been invited to attend.

Having completed three years mission work in Africa, Miss Lamberth is on one-year leave to tour the United States and speak of the mission and recently has returned from the West Coast. She will return to Nigeria the latter part of April. Yesterday noon she spoke to the members of Circle 4 of Centre Street church and last evening to a combined meeting of Baptist women at Grace Church.

In Nigeria Miss Lamberth teaches music, religious and secular education.

Accompanying her here are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lamberth, White Marsh, Va., who are house guests of her cousin, Mrs. E. E. Loar, LaVale. Miss Edna Chapman, Baltimore, also is visiting her sister.

LOUISE CONNORS

Valentine, Waingold Team Wins

Mrs. C. D. Valentine and Mrs. Louis Waingold won the Mrs. Loraine Eisenberg championship game of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club. Eight tables playing 26 boards with a top of seven on each and an average of 91, featured the game at the Woman's Civic Club house.

The winners had a score of 107 plus; second place were Mrs. George Bottorff and Norman Talar with 106 plus; third, Mrs. Ralph Nevy and Mrs. William Snyder with 105; fourth place was a tie between Dr. Paul Castello, J. D. Paddelford and Mrs. Roy Drumm, Mrs. J. D. Paddelford with 100.

Tonight at 8 the monthly Winners Game will be played by the Western Maryland Bridge Association. A. D. Heacock reports there are exactly 32 players eligible for the winners section. Others will play in section B as guests of the association. A special invitation is extended to all new players and those taking bridge lessons in the City Recreation classes to play in Section B tonight.

The regular game of the Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club scheduled for December 22 will be played December 15 instead and will be an Open Pair championship game.

ABL Rec Club Dance To Be Held Tomorrow

The Rec Club of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory will hold its annual Christmas dance tomorrow evening at Clary Club, for members, their husbands or wives and one other couple.

It is to be semi-formal, and a visit by Santa will feature the entertainment. Dancing will be to music by the Midnighters from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Louise Connors To Be Bride Of Harold Henley

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Connors, 18 Laing Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Louise Connors, to Harold Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyons, Mechanic Street.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized during the Christmas holidays.

The bride-elect attended Allegany High School.

Her fiancé also attended Allegany High School, served four years in the Air Force and is employed in Cleveland, Ohio.

Great Books Group Has Discussion

A discussion on Daniel Defoe's "Moll Flanders" featured the meeting of the Great Books Group of the Cumberland Branch American Association of University Women, which was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Milton Granet, LaVale.

Mrs. Paul Castello gave the historical background of the period and Mrs. John Cupler led the discussion of the book. Others present were Mrs. A. J. Mirkin, Mrs. Max Bastian, Mrs. Granville Shirley, Mrs. Howard Briggs, Mrs. Albert Eskin, Mrs. Maurice Milberg, Mrs. Henry Sauer, Mrs. Amer Suter Jr., Mrs. William Fraley, Mrs. Milton Beneman, Mrs. W. Royce Hodges, Mrs. George Griffith, Mrs. William Durland, Miss Dorothy Harlowe, Miss Pauline Hobbs, Dr. Laura B. Harney and Miss Irene Kirkeby.

The next meeting will be devoted to the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson, with Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Mirkin leaders. It will be January 8.

Business, Professional Women Plan Yule Party

The Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club will have a program at its annual Christmas party, which is to be held December 18.

It will begin with a dinner at 6:15 at Central YMCA, with the Recreation and Welfare committee in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Lillian C. Compton will speak, and Robert Moreland is to sing several numbers.

The club is donating packages to the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, and also will exchange jingle gifts.

Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder is chairman of arrangements. Her committee consists of Miss Marian Dennison, Mrs. Dessie Williams, Miss Edna Seifert, Mrs. Mabel Allen, Mrs. Stella Twigg, Miss Lillian Myers, Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, Mrs. Clarabelle Kallor and Miss Anna Agres.

George Schoenadel, 636 North Centre Street, is home from Sacred Heart Hospital.

Flintstone Club To Meet Tomorrow

The Flintstone Homemakers Club will hold a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. B. C. Robinson and Miss Pearl Wilson tomorrow at 8 o'clock. The program and recreation will be conducted by a committee composed of Mrs. Robinette, Mrs. Caryole Nixon and Mrs. William Mauzy.

Each one is asked to bring a small gift to be presented to shut-in club members.

There are two general types of rayon—filament and spun. Both are sleek, smooth fabrics, composed of long, continuous filaments. Continuous rayon filaments, cut into short lengths, may be spun into yarns to produce fabrics that resemble those of natural fabrics.

District 16 Firemen's Auxiliary Plans Public Supper, Installation January 7

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

SYDNEY, Dec. 12—(INS)—The planation except that it's the prospect of swinging again. Snakebite is a new fad here. It consists mainly of pickling snakes in Scotch and letting it age. The guarantee is if you eat the snake and drink the Scotch, it relieves all pain.

Dear Bob and Millie: So you're coming to Tokyo! Be sure to bring your long underwear and something for snakebite, and I hope you haven't lost your taste for raw squid and earthquakes.

It's getting on to Christmas and you'll find the Japanese celebrating it, not as a religious festivity but as perhaps the most rambunctious of the activities. Americans introduced during the late occupation. It's sort of a ball. We've got jolly Oriental, clean-shaven five-foot Santas cavorting on the Ginza.

In addition to the Christmas spirit, our American military also introduced burlesque to Japan and one perplexing residue is that at this time of the year you are likely to see a burlesque queen contorting to the strains of "Silent Night."

Nothing irreverent is meant. Its just that the Army officers in charge of introducing the Christmas spirit just didn't bother to get across the fine points of its religious significance in a land of Shinto.

About the long underwear—you'll really not need it unless you insist on being fashionable. On Dec. 1, most Japanese go into long underwear even in the steamiest of offices, and I've yet to have had a satisfactory ex-

Taxis are much cheaper than in New York or Los Angeles. You can go six miles for a buck. But every sensible man carries risk insurance that runs it higher.

All the World War II Japanese "Kamikaze" suicide pilots who survived now find employment as taxi drivers. They drive little toy cars that are great for snaking through traffic, but it would take six to carry both you and Toots Shor.

I hope you won't have any language difficulties. You shouldn't take the famous Japanese hot baths because so many people speak English, like my barber who has a sign above his place that says, "Please come in and have your hair cut."

Of course, the famous Tokyo Press Club still is going strong and hasn't changed much. The only life-size Marilyn Monroe calendar in all Asia is in its bar. George Thomas Folster of NBC hasn't changed much since your last visit in 1950.

Except, of course, that you'll see young Japanese couples walking hand-in-hand along the streets. It's something relatively new to the reserved Japanese. Something those crazy emotional Americans introduced.

I'm sure you and your wife appreciate that I've given you the offbeat version of Tokyo. It's been waiting for you. George

Two PE Employees Finish 25 Years
Two Cumberland employees of the Potomac Edison Company have completed 25 years of service with the utility and will be accepted into the Potomac Edison Quarter Century Club at the annual dinner meeting next Spring.
They are George A. Emerson and Clifford V. Ranck.
Six other local PE employees and three from Frostburg were awarded 15-year service pins and certificates at the dinner meetings of the PE System Employees' Beneficial Association.
From Cumberland they include Elmer A. Porter, Irvin L. Elliott, Paul L. Getz, Robert I. Dom, Howard M. Humbertson and Grover O. Aronholt. The Frostburg 15-year men are Gilbert Moffatt, Harry S. Weddle and Glenn Ritchie.

Allegheny Airlines Plans Added Service
Allegheny Airlines has been authorized to provide air services between Harrisburg, Pa., and Washington, D.C., in an order issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board.
The authorization came under the temporary exemption procedure until the company's application between these cities is acted upon in the Northeast States Case. While the airlines now serves both the cities on its east-west routes, it has not previously operated directly between the two points. The service is expected to begin in February next year.

Police Probing Crossing Crash

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad authorities and Maryland State Police are continuing an investigation of a crossing crash early yesterday near Black Oak in the vicinity of Rawlings in which a car was damaged when struck by a fast freight of the B&O.

The right rear end of the auto of Arthur Miller, RD 3, Keyser, was damaged to the extent of $200 in an accident which could have been more serious.

Cumberland Division authorities reported that eastbound St. Louis fast freight No. 94 hit the empty auto at 6:13 a. m. Luckily, the Diesel engine was not derailed, officials stated.

Preliminary investigation revealed that the driver of the car missed a private crossing in the Black Oak section.

The B&O said the auto became stuck between the tracks and the driver abandoned it when he could not get it moving.

Miller told B&O police that he went home and went to bed when he couldn't move the two-door sedan.

Over $400 Is Raised In Fund Campaign By RC

A total of $423.30 has been donated to the Hungarian Relief Drive, sponsored by Allegany County Chapter Red Cross, according to Mrs. George W. Lege, executive secretary.

This amount includes funds given by volunteers at a booth in Rosenbaum's, contributions received by mail, checks from people who visited the Red Cross office, and a gift from the Frostburg branch.

Each branch in the county has been assigned a quota of the $2,630 goal assigned to the county by the American Red Cross. The quota for the entire county is $5,000.00.

Red Cross officials urge increased support of the campaign, with gifts from more people. No direct solicitation is being made out of deference to other organizations about to launch drives.

Carver Homemakers To Present Program

The Carver High School chapter of the New Homemakers of America will present a Christmas benefit performance today at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The program will be in the form of a television studio and will feature selections by "Senator" Fred Bell, the "Carverettes," "The Cool Teens," "The Sharp Tacks," and "The Casanovas."

James Washington will be guest soloist. Others taking part in the program will be Margaret Stewart, Tanya Darr, Paige Green, Anita Hudson, Mary Ellen Smith, Sandra Washington, Lily Brown, Shirley Wormack, Patricia Matthews.

William Colbert, Mervin Pope, Marshall Lewis, John Powell, Carter Banks and Max Keyes. Bette Stephens will be mistress of ceremonies. The faculty advisor of NHA is Miss Mary G. Carter.

Charges Against Truckers Dropped

Charges against three coal truck drivers for failure to have their loaded vehicles weighed on city scales, were dismissed yesterday in Police Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason said the city ordinance being contested specifically states that only sales and deliveries within the city are required to be weighed on the city scales. Testimony by the truckers revealed the loads were being delivered to out-of-town customers and had been weighed by a state licensed weighmaster.

When it was stated that the city scales usually show a discrepancy, Thomas B. Finan, who prosecuted, said he would institute a check of the scales. It also was noted that no other coal truckers have complied with the licensing and weighing ordinance.

Man Pleads Guilty On Two Charges

Charles W. Collins, this city, yesterday received a suspended sentence from Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court after he pleaded guilty to two charges involving paternity of two children born out of wedlock to the same woman in 14 months.

Collins was ordered to pay $7.50 per week for the support of each child until they reach the age of 18 years. The first child was born December 2, 1954 and the second on February 6, 1956.

Survey Seeks Farming Data

Special questions on farm wage workers will be asked in the December Current Population Survey at the request of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Supervisor Edgar L. Bryan of the Census Bureau's field office in Pittsburgh, which will participate in the survey.

Mrs. Olive E. Claar, city, will collect local survey information which will cover days worked, earnings from farm and nonfarm work, number of different farms worked on during the year and how farm wage work was obtained.

Migrant farm workers will be asked additional questions to determine how far from home these workers went to do farm work.

The farm work questions will be asked in addition to the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment. The December survey will be conducted next week.

Choral Society To Sing

The Cumberland Choral Society is planning to sing at the Christmas tree lighting ceremony here Sunday at 9:15 p. m. on the lawn of First Presbyterian Church.

The program originally had been planned on the lawn of Emmanuel Episcopal Church. Members of the Choral Society are requested to meet at the Presbyterian Church at 8:45 p. m. Charles I. Sager, director, asked that members each bring a copy of "The Shepherd's Carol."

Man Issued Permit For Two Houses

G. M. Saville yesterday obtained permits from the City Engineer's office for construction of two residences costing a total of $18,000 on Wempe Drive in Southview Addition.

One house, 42 feet four inches by 27 feet eight inches, will be a brick and frame dwelling with concrete block foundation. It will cost an estimated $10,000.

The other house, 48 feet four inches by 24 feet, will be a frame building with concrete block foundation. It will cost an estimated $8,000.

Both dwellings will have asphalt shingle roofs and will be constructed by Gilbert Rannels of Springfield, W. Va.

Except For Luxury Goods, Prices In Peiping Within Reach Of Average Worker

Editor's Note: This is another story by David Lancashire on his tour of Communist China. Lancashire is a Canadian reporter.

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
PEIPING, P.—If Wang Fu-ying

put every yuan he earns under the mattress, it would take him more than two years to buy the tuba at the big department store that is operated by the state.

But he can pick up a cotton shirt for the equivalent of 37 cents, or a sweater for 60 cents.

Except for luxury goods like fur coats, cameras and tubas, prices in Peiping are within reach of the average worker whose salary is 65 yuan—$28—a month. Nothing is rationed but cotton cloth, grain, and cooking oils. The allowance for each family is liberal.

The stores are flooded with Chinese-made consumer goods. There are few imports. There are no refrigerators or electric kitchens, but there is everything the Chinese worker needs for day-to-day living. The quality is surprisingly good.

The department store is a touch of modern Westernization in a city that still looks much like a medieval town. It is one of hundreds of shops that have been opened or expanded since the Communists took over private stores and boosted production of consumer goods.

Sample prices in the state store, in the equivalent of U.S. currency: Shoes $3.75; socks 14 cents; heavy padded cotton coats $3 to $6; soap 9 cents; man's suit, $18; cigarettes 12 to 19 cents.

Most of the merchandise is packed in dead imitation of American wrappers. There are cigarettes with an elephant on which look at first like a pack of Camels, imitation Lux soap, takeoffs on Parker pens, a candy called Mickey Mouse, and a complete range of American liquor labels done in Chinese.

Although nobody in China wears makeup except on holidays, there is a complete cosmetics counter, with copies of American nail polish selling at 40 cents, lipstick at 60 and hand lotion at $1.20.

You can buy a child's tricycle for $14 and a bicycle for $68 but an English import costs over $200. A sewing machine sells for $63.

Highest price tag is on a German camera, selling for $823.

Next comes the tuba at $685.

Fur coats are available for $565. Like all the merchandise, the quality is good but the styles are dull. There is not a single high heel in the women's shoe department. The women wear bulky padded cotton coats and sturdy black oxfords.

Just across the road from the department store is a remnant from the past brought up to date through socialism—the Tung An Market.

Here hundreds of stalls sell clothes, drugs, carved ivory, plaster busts of Mao Tse-tung, jade and books, confiscated from the libraries of departed old China hands.

But the interminable haggling for which China was famous has disappeared. Every knock-knack bears a price tag. The proprietor, under state control a civil servant, refuses to budge from the stated price.

"The state sets the prices," said one such proprietor. "We're all in cooperatives now, and if the state at the next counter cuts his price, or boosts it for a tourist, anybody will report him and he'll be out of a job."

Almost the entire population of Peiping dresses in drab blue. Colors are available but shunned. In the window of a tailor's shop are bolts of bright gabardine and silks, but the suit on the dummy is the high-necked blue uniform.

With the state takeover of private businesses still not finished, the stores in Peiping are in a state has been renovated, there's a new name over the door, and the tailor

"The tail- "And by the time the suit is or takes your measurements and finished, the tailor's place might tells you to come back a week, be a small department store with later for a fitting. four or five businesses pooled into

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (P)—The Library of Congress now has a copy of The Bee, one of the earliest American magazines, among its rare volumes.

The Bee, published in Philadelphia, appeared in only three issues, Feb. 12, 19 and March 7, 1765. Each issue contained a single essay.

Three complete sets are known to be in other libraries in the United States.

Local Attorney Is Named Dimes March Chairman

Fred H. Anderson, local attorney, has been appointed chairman of the local March of Dimes campaign, according to Louis V. Shinnamon, Allegany County chairman.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Anderson, 822 Greene Street, the 1957 city chairman resides at 642 Fayette Street, with his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Elder, daughter of H. C. Elder, 807 Bedford Street. The couple has one child, an eight-month-old daughter, Christine Kay.

Mr. Anderson graduated from Allegany High School and attended Fairmont (W. Va.) State College before completing his studies at the University of Maryland Law School. He is a member of the Allegany County and Baltimore City Bar associations.

During World War II, Mr. Anderson served with the Eighth Air Force in the European Theatre, being a member of the armed forces from 1941 to 1945.

He holds membership in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the Optimist Club and the United Commercial Travelers.

Mr. Shinnamon said plans for the fund campaign, held annually during January, are nearing completion, with only a few community chairmen yet to be named before the drive gets under way.

Dinner Is Postponed

A spaghetti dinner scheduled for this evening by Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, has been postponed because of the illness of the post chef, Newton Parrish. The event is expected to be held during the latter part of next month, post officials said.

Suit Filed Here For $1,000 For Loss Of Eye

A suit for $1,000 has been filed for a pupil in Allegany County Circuit Court against an Illinois insurance company for alleged non-payment of a school insurance policy.

Edward J. Ryan filed the suit for George W. Elbin, now George W. Jewell, by his father and next friend, against Reliance Mutual Life Insurance Company.

The declaration alleges that the boy took out a school insurance policy calling for hospital and doctor benefits in addition to a $1,000 disability payment for the loss of an eye.

The suit contends that the boy, a student in a Cumberland school, suffered the loss of his right eye in an accident at school. The doctor and hospital bills were paid, but the $1,000 disability payment was not met, the petition alleges.

Royal purple dye, noted for its richness and durability, was manufactured in ancient Tyre, an important center of Phoenician civilization, about 1400 B. C. In ancient times, dyed fabrics were a luxury known only to royalty—hence the names "royal" purple, "royal" blue and "royal" scarlet.

Net Income Of Railway Is Increased

The net income of the Western Maryland Railway for the eleven months of 1955, was increased by $360,000 due to November was $32,000 higher than it was for November of last year.

The official figures show the railroad's net income last month was $853,000, equal to $1.10 a common share, compared with $821,000 or $1.05 a share for November 1955.

For the first 11 months of 1956, the railroad tentatively reported its net income at $7,356,000, or $9.07 a common share, only slightly changed from $7,367,400 or $9.08 a share for the corresponding 1955 period.

It was noted that net income for November last year was augmented by $100,000 and for receipts $262,000 to $2,419,000. Coal freight revenues for the eleven months were estimated at $78,843,000 up $2,041,000. Other freight revenues were put at $25,792,000, up $2,076,000.

Burma's Bandits, Reds—And Border

Burma, beset within by Communists and other insurgents, may have to give up some of its territory to Red China in a deal to pacify the disputed border it shares with China. The border has never been well defined. Recent Chinese maps show parts of this wild area as Chinese.

The sporadic invasion of Red Chinese troops into areas the Burmese look upon as their own has been going on for several years. Hitherto the Burmese government, eager to maintain "proper" relations with its Red neighbor, had kept the incursions a closely guarded secret. But now the government is apparently trying to force China to settle the border problem as soon as possible.

The Burmese Communist Party was outlawed by act of Parliament in 1954. Premier U Nu resigned on June 5, 1956, for a year to direct reorganization of his Anti-Fascist People's Freedom League. Nu's party had lost ground to the pro-Communists in elections in late April. Nu was reported to have decided that his neutral foreign policy had failed and that his party would have to counteract political activities of the Russian and Red Chinese embassy officials in Burma.

Nu was succeeded as Premier by U Ba Swe, a strong man in the A.F.P.F.L., who had been Minister of Defense. Swe announced that Burma would continue to be independent in foreign policy.

Communism within and without is only one facet of the Burmese problem. Burma requested in the spring of 1953 that all U.S. aid be terminated. The situation was complicated. The Burmese government had appealed to the U.N. General Assembly for help in getting rid of some 12,000 Nationalist Chinese in Burma. The United States used its good offices with Nationalist China, and U.S. planes flew most of the Nationalist troops to Formosa in 1953 and 1954. About 3,000 to 4,000 remain in mountainous areas of Burma.

Burma has not known peace for 15 years. Despite an army of 60,000 soldiers and about 13,000 military police, Burma has not been able to wrest complete control of the countryside from Karen tribesmen—who want their own state—and local bandits. These are some of the problems that undoubtedly will be in Premier Swe's mind when he goes to Red China day after tomorrow to discuss a permanent border settlement with China's Premier Chou En-lai.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
The FBI

Some years ago a book appeared about the FBI written by one Max Lowenthal, who is reputed to have master-minded the designation of Harry Truman as Vice President. It was an unfriendly book, representing not a research of the Federal Bureau of Investigation but a hatchet job on J. Edgar Hoover.

Now another book has been written about the FBI by a newspaperman, Don Whitehead, Washington correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune. The Whitehead book, entitled "The FBI Story," published by Random House, is a particularly valuable document as it gives much of the story of how this country evaded the dangers of establishing a national police force, because J. Edgar Hoover fought before committees of Congress against the invasion of the functions of the local police, state and municipal police, upon whom this country must depend for the maintenance of law and order.

Some readers will be interested in the cop and robber stuff, the history of which is, of course, given in the Whitehead book, but it does seem to me that the greatest value of this history of a government agency is that it documents a theory of the relations between the federal government and the local governments as it applies to policing the country and secondly that it brings into high relief the personality of J. Edgar Hoover who, when so many in Washington were empire-building, sought for his own agency stringent limitations which would prevent it from becoming an oppressor of the people.

Hoover, himself, wrote an introduction to the Whitehead book in which he makes his point of view clear, particularly as regards subversives: "The FBI is an action agency in securing facts, apprehending violators of federal laws within its jurisdiction, and servicing law enforcement agencies. Once we gather the facts, apprehend the violator and provide our services to other agencies, our duty is fulfilled. We submit the results of our investigations to other officials of government. We neither evaluate the results of our investigations nor make recommendations. We do not inject ourselves into the administrative operations of other agencies of government by saying who is loyal and who is not loyal or who is a security risk or who is suitable for service in the Federal government. We merely report the facts."

It is the investigative character of the FBI that is important; what the administrative officials of the government or local officials do with the data brought together and placed at their disposal is not for the FBI to decide.

The opponents of the Bureau act as though the FBI were a gossip mill and that J. Edgar Hoover goes about Washington whispering tales in the ears of administrative officials. Actually the Bureau does not evaluate the data in its possession. Its raw files, which contain processed and unprocessed data, rumors as well as facts, are not available to others and although attempts have been made to force such disclosures, they have usually failed because it is absurd to attempt to produce a raw and unevaluated file as evidence.

This Don Whitehead brings out in his book which is straight reporting. For the first time the record was made available and a reporter did an excellent job of bringing the data together without complicating the narration. The difference between the Whitehead and the Lowenthal books is that Whitehead got the facts and told them with journalistic accuracy, whereas Lowenthal never was permitted to get at the facts and resorted to the special pleadings of an advocate serving a cause.

Ike Met Mid-East Crisis Energetically, Sensibly

WASHINGTON Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' long absence from his desk has had a curious, unanticipated, and highly significant side effect. It has involved President Eisenhower deeply and intimately in the policy-making process, in a way that he was not involved before.

Before Dulles was taken ill, the President relied on him very heavily indeed. A close personal relationship has developed between the two men, totally different as they are in temperament (just as there was a close relationship between those two entirely different men, Harry S. Truman and Dean G. Acheson). And, except for a very few very big decisions (like the decision to hold a "Meeting at the Summit," which Dulles strongly opposed) the President has had a tendency to "leave it to Foster."

But when Dulles was stricken, the President by necessity became his own Secretary of State. Undersecretary Herbert Hoover Jr., (unlike his prospective successor, Massachusetts Governor Christian A. Herter, whose main interest in life has been foreign affairs) is essentially an administrator and thus not qualified to make high policy decision. The President took over completely, even dictating his own cables, striding up and down the Cabinet room while his chief advisers listened.

Worries—And No Cushion

This period of acting as his own Secretary of State had two effects on the President. In the first place, it tired him out — not surprisingly, since he was forced to take over during the most dangerous foreign policy crisis of recent years. The Georgia vacation was thought mandatory, even though the President himself was wholly aware that this has not been a good time to leave Washington. The other effect was more important. Secretary Dulles had previously acted as a sort of cushion between the President and the facts of the world situation. Now the President was brought into immediate, intimate contact with the facts, with no intervening cushion.

Like everybody else in the Administration, the President's first reaction to the Anglo-French action in Egypt was anger. But even in those first days, when there was serious discussion in the National Security Council of interposing the American Sixth Fleet between the Anglo-French forces and Suez, the President reminded his advisers that "we've got to remember who are our real friends and who are our real enemies."

And as the days went by, the importance of the Western Alliance occupied the President more and more, and the wickedness of the Allies less and less. This was not true of Undersecretary Hoover, and not entirely true of Secretary Dulles.

Hoover, with the sickbed backing of Dulles, had put forward the policy of using Western Hemisphere oil as an unacknowledged economic sanction to force the British and French to evacuate Egypt; for a time the President went along with this policy. But when he realized the extraordinary damage the policy was inflicting on the Western Alliance, he flatly reversed it. He promised oil to Britain and Western Europe, over Hoover's protests, before the Anglo-French decision to evacuate had been announced, and before a single soldier had been withdrawn.

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

But that was only the beginning of the process initiated by the President's intimate contact with the facts. One of the facts which has become clearer and clearer as the days have passed is that the Suez crisis threatens a serious economic depression in Europe, which might deeply infect the American economy.

The most immediate danger is a run on the British pound sterling, which could bring about the final bankruptcy of Britain as banker of the vast sterling area. Vice President Nixon's important foreign policy speech, which promised "action to deal with the financial plight of our friends in Britain," was a just move to deal with the danger.

Patching Up The Wounds

Other moves are in prospect. One being considered is a flat, unequivocal statement by the President that sterling will be supported if necessary. And if the worst comes to the worst — which both the British and the American governments fervently hope it will not — Congress will be asked to provide massive direct grants to Britain and Western Europe.

Finally, the President is now seriously considering appearing again in person before the United Nations, to make a speech designed to bind up the wounds of the West; to warn the Soviets against further adventures; and to reassert American leadership of the free world.

All in all, the effect on the President himself of the experience of acting as his own Secretary of State has been most marked. But perhaps it has not been very surprising. For the President is, after all, the author of the famous Guildhall speech, a noble statement of the meaning and purpose of the Western Alliance. And unquestionably he still believes what he said then.

When Ten Downing Street sores up at Capitol Hill it's carrying clinkers from Newcastle.

America has saved England oftener than Pearl White in the "Perils of Pauline."

Back around 1945 we said if Russia grabbed the Dardanelles it would be exchanging a bottle with one neck for a bottle with two necks. But that England would fight you in the Red Sea if your fleet paid its tolls through the Suez Canal.

If Moscow controls the Egyptian bottle neck the English still monopolize Gibraltar. They can stop cross traffic like a policeman with a neon thumb.

Course if you look in the back of the book you'll find the Arabs with a better claim than a kangaroo to what's in its pocket. It was confiscated by Gibel el-Tarik in 711 by the village clock. The English inherited it a thousand years later by the Treaty of Utrecht.

Gibel el-Tarek was sandpapered down to Gibraltar. All the English have to do is close the Strait and see if Gibel tells Macy's.

Then everybody goes around the Cape of Good Hope with a good song ringing clear.

New Idea for Your Happy Holidays!

1 28-oz. can fruit cocktail
1 envelope Knox Gelatin
1 1/2 cups prepared egg nog
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 cup whipping cream
1 9-inch baked pie shell (if you use a mix, follow package directions to make the crust)

Drain fruit cocktail thoroughly; measure 1/2 cup of the syrup. Stir gelatin into syrup; place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; stir into egg nog. Add salt and flavorings. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Whip cream; fold into gelatin mixture along with 1 1/2 cups well drained fruit cocktail. Chill again 5 to 10 minutes, until mixture mounds. Heap into baked and cooled pastry shell. Chill 2 to 4 hours. Decorate with remaining fruit cocktail. Makes one 9-inch pie.

High Voltage Line Adds Power To Area

Va., to will connect the company's gen- Junction, W. Va., ahead of sched- erating stations at Albright and ult.

Work on the completed seg- ment was begun last March and involved clearing 550 acres of right-of-way. The line was en- ergized for the first time October 25.

Coincidental with beginning of work on the transmission line was the state of construction on the new substation located at Junction and of additional facili- ties at the Albright station to provide for the new 132 kv cir- cuit.

The new transmission line pro- vides one third of the 132,000 volt line as well as additional connections with companies to the west and will offer added insurance for better service as well as an increased power sup- ply into Cumberland, through Junction substation, and to the surrounding Frostburg and Key- ser areas.

Present plans call for continu- ing the line into Millville next year and it will provide a third 132,000 volt line into the eastern portion of the PE system.

The line, substations and other terminal facilities have been esti- mated to cost 3½ million dollars.

Singers To Observe Spanish Custom

The Spanish Club of Allegany High School will revive an old Christmas custom of Spanish speaking peoples this eve- ning. In Spanish speaking coun- tries on Christmas Eve, house- holders often place rows of lighted candles on the roofs of their houses or on the paths leading to their homes in order to light the way of the Christ Child.

The students will sing familiar carols in Spanish at the Sacred Heart and Memorial hospitals and at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad station. They will then proceed to the home of their sponsor, Mrs. A. L. Rogers, 915 Ridgedale Avenue, where the "luminarios" will be lighted.

Regina Eichner and William Millholland are co-chairmen for the carol singing; Frances Har-vey, refreshments, and Sharon McCartney luminarios.

Hardy County Deer Kill Hits All-Time Record

Hunters Get 1,536 Bucks, 1,524 Does

MOOREFIELD — The deer kill than 21% of the 206 deer checked in Hardy County for 1956 reach there were fawns. The count was ed 3,060 an all time record ac-45 out of a total of 206.

Conservation Officer Townsend reported 15 arrests with James E. Shepherd, Mt. Clare; Paul V. ers choice season showed a slight lead in the buck kill with 1536 bucks and 1524 does. Perfect hunting weather for the entire week for an estimated 9,000 hunters accounted for the record kill.

The total figure above includes 135 deer checked in Hampshire County, 66 checked in Grant County and nine in other counties all of which were killed in Hardy County.

The total kill for Hampshire County was 2165, Pendleton County 969 and Grant County with a bucks only season, 289.

A check on the figures revealed that county hunters killed bucks nearly three to one over does and visiting hunters reversed the ratio with the kill running nearly three bucks to one doe.

An analysis of the figures at one of the stations, Larry's Grill at Lost City, showed that more

Blaze Damages Frostburg Home

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Fire Department answered a call at 2:20 a. m. Monday to the residence of Richard Edwards, 150 West Mechanic Street, where an extension cord running from the basement to the second floor in the wall of the building became overheated and caught fire.

The cord, used with an electric heater in one of the second bedrooms, apparently was not heavy enough to carry the current necessary to operate the heater.

The blaze was quickly extinguished with chemicals and only superficial damage resulted.

Firemen were also called out at 7:40 p. m. Monday to extinguish a flue fire at 95 Bowery Street. No property damage was reported.

Ralph J. Bean Again Heads Fire Company

MOOREFIELD—Ralph J. Bean was reelected president of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company at the annual election of officers held at the fire hall this week. Other officers named are L. I. McConnell, first vice-president, Elmo Pownall, second vice-president, C. C. Hessen, chief, Morton Friddle, assistant chief, Mike Wysong, second assistant chief, Tom McNeill, secretary, Grover C. Charlton, corresponding secretary, Charles Bean, treasurer, Harold Smith, sergeant-at-arms, Carl Neff, drill captain, Rev. Alvin Schmutz, chaplain and Welton Ruckman, first driver.

President Bean announced that the installation of officers would be held December 20 at a dinner meeting at the fire hall starting at 7 p. m. The occasion will be a ladies night.

The firemen announced they would cooperate again this year with other civic groups in the distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families in the community.

Area Counties Rated In Livestock Program

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — Among the 12 top-scoring West Virginia counties in the balanced extension livestock program during 1955-56 were Grant, Hampshire, Pendleton and Hardy, according to Joe Emch, associate extension animal husbandman at West Virginia University.

Pocahontas County was the state leader with 12,791 points. Grant County was second, Hampshire County fourth, Pendleton County seventh and Hardy County 11th.

The Grant County agent was one of three eligible for a trip to the International Livestock Exposition and National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago through awards made by the West Virginia Livestock Marketing Association, the West Virginia Wool Marketing Association and the West Virginia Purebred Sheep Breeders' Association.

Cumberland Again Requests September Race Dates

State Group Rejects Plan To Open Feb.

World Series Time Reflects On Dates For Half-Milers

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12 (P)—The State Racing Commission rejected today a proposal to start Maryland's 1957 thoroughbred racing season on Feb. 12.

The move had been suggested by Donald Lillis, president of Rowie, but was opposed by officials of the State's two other major tracks, Laurel and Pimlico.

"Your proposal has some merit," Lillis was told by Commission Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart, "but I don't think this commission is ready for racing in February."

"We will insist on a March 1 opening and prefer to close the spring season on May 25. We don't want to compete against Delaware Park, if at all possible, but if you find it absolutely necessary you do have the latitude to run through Memorial Day in your scheduling."

Rinehart said Maryland's fall season should open about Oct. 17 and run to about Dec. 7 to avoid major track schedules overlapping with those of the five half-mile tracks in the State and to "keep harness-racing opposition to a minimum."

The commission meeting was adjourned after John Schapiro, president of Laurel, asked for time to confer with Bowie and Pimlico officials on schedule proposals he planned to offer the commission.

Operators of Maryland's five half-mile tracks, also meeting with the commission today, spent most of their time discussing how they could avoid a conflict with a portion of the World Series.

The Series normally would be in early October and was reflected in half-milers' requests for 1957 racing dates given to the commission today. They were:

Bel Air, Aug. 12-24; Hagerstown, Aug. 19-31; Timonium, Aug. 26-Sept. 7; Cumberland, Sept. 9-21; and Marlboro, Oct. 7-19.

Rinehart said there was no problem with Cumberland's request. An alternate suggestion of dates from Ed Farrell of Marlboro, former president of the half-milers, drew an objection from Cumberland.

A Cumberland spokesman said Sept. 23-Oct. 5 would not be satisfactory because it is very cold by then in the Allegany County seat, and the track did not want to take a chance with bad weather.

Farrell's idea was for Cumberland and Marlboro to split the World Series period. Dates for Marlboro would have been Oct. 7-19, with these dates for the other tracks:

Bel Air, Sept. 9-21; Hagerstown, Aug. 12-4, and Timonium, Aug. 26-Sept. 7.

Salem Whips Potomac State Cagers, 95-85

SALEM, W. Va., Dec. 12 — Salem College, behind the goaling of Dave Corsini who tallied 29 points, defeated Potomac State's Catamounts here tonight, 95-85, in a WVIAC game.

Potomac led at intermission, 44-41, but Salem knotted the count at 5-all on Fred Gandt's goal and went ahead on another fielder by Corsini to remain in front the remainder of the way.

Potomac pulled within four points at 89-85, but Corsini led a Salem assault that iced the game for the home towners.

The win was the second in six starts in the conference for Salem while Potomac's record is 1-3 in the league and 2-3 overall, the three losses coming in a row.

Bill Edmondson poured home 28 points for the visitors while Corsini had 29 and Gandt 15 for Salem. The lineups:

Site Of YMCA Games Saturday Is Changed

James Fortner, physical director of Central YMCA, said last night the site of Saturday's National League games scheduled in the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League has been changed from Allegany High School's gym to the girls' gymnasium at Fort Hill.

All games scheduled at Allegany will be played at Fort Hill, he said, with game times remaining the same as previously planned. The Central YMCA gym schedule remains unchanged.

| Arnels | 20 22 Fortians | 18 24 |

W.Va. Rolls To 81-66 Win Over Penn State

MORGANTOWN, Dec. 12 (P)—West Virginia solved Penn State's tight zone defense midway in the game to roll to an 81-66 basketball victory here tonight. It was the fourth straight triumph for the unbeaten Mountaineers.

The invading Nittany Lions threw up a tight zone defense which baffled the Mountaineers and held them in check throughout most of the first half before a jump shot from the right corner by Hot Rod Hundley put them ahead 36-34 to stay just 1½ minutes before the halftime intermission.

Lloyd Sharrar, the 6-10 center, controlled most of the rebounds and led the WVU scoring with 20 points. Hundley accounted for 17 and Clayce Kishbaugh had 16.

Penn State's scoring was led by Ron Rainey with 21 points — 13 of these coming on foul throws. Rainey set a Mountaineer field-house record by sinking 13 fouls without a miss.

Grid Offense Shows Decline

Crawford Captures Rushing Crown

(By The Associated Press)

Although the running game was the big thing in college football during the 1956 season, Jim Crawford of unbeaten Wyoming won the major college individual rushing championship with the lowest figure in 11 years.

And Art Powell of San Jose State won the pass receiving title with the fewest receptions of any champion since 1948.

Final statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau showed Crawford gained 1,044 yards by carrying the ball 200 times. Bill Barnes of Wake Forest, who had a good chance to overtake Crawford, was forced out of his final game after gaining only 18 yards and finished second with 1,010 yards on 168 carries.

Powell, the first backfield man since 1940 to take pass receiving honors, grabbed two during a tropical rainstorm in San Jose's final game against Hawaii and beat out Bill Steiger of Washington State, 40-39, in receptions.

Steiger, however, led in yardage, outgaining Powell 607 yards to 583 on receptions.

Last year's rushing leader, Art Luppino of Arizona, was hampered by an early-season injury, but the 327 yards he gained were enough to break Alan Ameche's four-year career record of 3,212 yards for Wisconsin. Luppino wound up with 3,381 for four seasons.

Mountain City League To Meet

The Mountain City Basketball League will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Frostburg VFW home to draw up a schedule for the coming season. Officials of the circuit said representatives of all 10 teams in the circuit must be present at the meeting.

Teams entered in the newly formed league are Mt. Savage, Eckhart, Lonaconing, Midland, Frostburg VFW, Frostburg, Dukes, Kroll's of Frostburg, Frostburg A&P Market, Sky View Inn of Finzel and Harris Restaurant, Frostburg.

Pete Wilson Wins Greensburg Fight

Argyle "Pete" Wilson, Flintstone amateur middle-weight boxer, decisioned Sam Sellers, negro battler of the Pittsburgh area in the final and feature match of a seven-bout fistic show Tuesday night at Greensburg, Pa.

It was Wilson's first fight in three months and the win was his 13th against six defeats.

Tuesday's show was held at the Greensburg YMCA. Both Wilson and Sellers scaled 160 pounds.

Cubs Bring Up Shortstop Wise

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP) - The trade-minded Chicago Cubs today brought up Pacific Coast League all-star shortstop Kendall Wise from Los Angeles in a move apparently aimed at acquiring a new centerfielder.

In exchange, the Cubs gave catcher Joe Hannah.

Although the Cubs have an established second-base combination in shortstop Ernie Banks and second sacker, Gene Baker, rumors persisted Baker might be trade bait for a centerfielder.

Outfielder Frank Thomas or Lee Walls of the Pittsburgh Pirates are said to be coveted by Cub General Manager John Holland.

Requiem Mass For Mrs. Comiskey

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP) - A requiem mass will be said tomorrow for Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, who died Monday of a heart attack.

Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery in Evanston.

Former College Stars Top All-Service Team Picks

Drake, Simpson, Brown Are Best

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP) - Former college stars, including some who already have made the grade in pro football, dominate all service teams announced today by papers serving the armed forces.

Topping the list were Vinnie Drake, ex-Fordham quarterback now a second lieutenant with the 3rd Armored Division in Germany; Pete Brown, center from Georgia Tech now a first lieutenant at Shaw Air Force Base, S. C., and Bob Simpson, Nebraska State Teachers produce who played guard for Alameda (Calif.) Naval Air Station.

Each was named "most valuable player" respectively by the Army Times, Air Force Times and Navy Times, who polled coaches, sports writers and servicemen.

Drake played pro ball for Winnipeg in Canada before entering the Army. He completed 70 of 130 passes for 1,607 yards this season in Europe.

Brown, a 6-foot-1, 200 pounder, once played for the San Francisco 49ers. Bill McDonald, coach of the 9th Air Force Commanders at Shaw, calls him the "strongest linebacker in service football."

Simpson, a 230-pound lineman, beat out two all-time Naval Academy greats, end Ron Beagle and quarterback George Welsh, on the All-Sea eleven embracing Navy, Marine and Coast Guard personnel.

The 22-man All-Army team, with service team, college and hometown, includes:

Ends-Jim Greer, 3rd Armored Division, Europe, Elizabeth City (N.C.) College, Huntington, W. Va. Tackles-Bill Rayfield, Ft. Bliss, Tex., Hampton Institute, Baltimore; Joe Mehalic, 1st Corps, Korea, Virginia, Boonton, N. J.; Dick Shipley, Ft. Jackson, S. C., Maryland, Frederick, Md.

Guards - Jay Hampton, 504th Airborne Infantry, Ft. Bragg, N. C. no college experience, War, W. Va. The All-Air Force first team: Halfbacks-Billy Reynolds, Bolling, Pitt. St. Mary's W. Va. The All-Sea Service first team: Ends - Ron Beagle, Quantico, Va. Navy, Covington, Ky. Quarterback - George Welsh, Norfolk, Va. Navy, Coaldale, Pa. Halfbacks-Dick Snyder, Pensacola, Fla., Navy, Easton, Pa. Fullback-Ben Proffitt, Anacostia, D. C., Bluefield State Teachers, Bluefield, W. Va.

Tropical Double Pays $313 For $2

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 12 (AP) - A $313.20 daily double materialized as Lady Of Knock, a longshot at $62.80, scampered off with the opening event and Noble Lad, $12.30, led all the way in the second at Tropical Park today.

A Lady Of Knock, ridden by the veteran Ovie Scurlock, scored by two lengths in the good time of 1:11 4/5 for the six furlongs. Maid of Cotton, impeded early, came on to finish second, while Magic Toes was third in the limit field of fillies and mares.

Noble Lad broke in front and was never headed, though pressed by Walter Blum to beat Setubal by a neck at the end of the mile and a sixteenth. It was timed in 1:45 4/5. Arabia was a distant third before nine other cheap horses.

Eight carloads containing 68 thoroughbreds checked in at Fair-leah in one day in November to prepare for the winter meeting.

Hornung Gets Heisman Trophy

Says Nothing Wrong With School Spirit

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP) - If there was anything wrong with the famed Notre Dame spirit this year, Paul Hornung couldn't detect it.

Hornung, with poise that seems to belong to all Notre Dame quarterbacks, met the New York press today at a luncheon preceding the annual Heisman trophy dinner at which he was to receive the award as the outstanding college football player of the 1956 season.

He avoided a direct reply to former Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy, who criticized the Notre Dame team for lack of spirit and "letting down" the college by failing to show enough fight. But in response to questions he said:

"I don't think the Notre Dame spirit has dimmed a bit. Before every game we thought we had a good chance of winning. I don't think the Notre Dame spirit will ever die."

Hornung is the fifth Notre Dame player to receive the Heisman memorial trophy, given by the Downtown Athletic Club in memory of John W. Heisman, famed football coach who became the club's athletic director.

Others were Angelo Bertelli in 1943, Johnny Lujack in 1947, Leon Hart in 1949 and John Lattner in 1953. Last year's winner was Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy of Ohio State.

LaVale Citizens To Meet On Zoning Legislation

A series of public meetings to acquaint residents of LaVale with proposed zoning legislation for and Sen. Charles M. See and the that community was announced six delegates for their cooperation at a meeting of the LaVale Civic Association in connection with zoning Improvement Association Mon-legislation for LaVale.

Harry Kauffman, chairman of the association's zoning committee, said the directors of the assembly, Mr. Kauffman pointed out, civic group passed a resolution out.

In January, a series of meetings to acquaint the residents of the community with the proposed zoning law will begin, he added.

The directors were informed that the Potomac Edison Company is conducting a street lighting survey in LaVale and will report to the association upon its completion.

John Workmeister reported that a suitable building is all that is holding up a second class post office for LaVale.

The U. S. Post Office Department needs a building that contains a minimum of 1,800 square feet of floor space, and has a loading ramp for five trucks, Mr. Workmeister added.

The civic improvement association conducted a financial campaign for street signs and through the cooperation of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners has all of the signs installed.

This is one of the requirements for mounted carrier delivery in LaVale, postal authorities have informed the association.

Mr. Workmeister said the post office department will entertain a lease proposition with any builder or owner of existing building in the community.

Area Men Give Report To Travel Group

ANNAPOLIS — Paul W. McAuliffe, of Frederick, president of the Maryland Travel Council since its formation 3½ years ago, was presented with a wrist watch at the group's annual dinner Tuesday.

At the dinner, James O'Keefe of Edgewood and Howard Harrison of Baltimore reported on the recent trip of a council committee by bus through New England. The committee returned Monday, after distributing travel literature on Maryland in various New England states.

Council members head a report at the three-hour business meeting from Helmuth Heise of Oakland, Md. in a new ski lift recently installed there. Mr. Heise is president of the Garrett County Deep Creek Lake Promotional Council. Jack Towler of Cumberland, one of the council vice presidents, gave the membership report. Harry Wainwright of Howard County brought crests of Maryland made with silver and gold wire.

The non-profit council has about 275 members.

The bidding:
North East South West

3 clubs Pass 4 diamonds Pass
5 clubs Pass Pass
Opening lead: Jack of spades.
Failure to count his tricks at the crucial moment resulted in declarer's loss of a game contract in the hand featured today.

vulnerable overall might in some circles be regarded as an out and out affront to partner. South, with six solid trumps, decided to jump the bid, after North had presumably shown additional values. With a void in spades and two trumps, North went on to five diamonds fearing to complicate matters with any other bid.

West opened the jack of spades which was ruffed in dummy. With no quick entry to his hand, declarer was unable to obtain another ruff in dummy; so he exited by playing the deuce of hearts. East played the jack which held the trick, and returned a trump. Declarer drew all the trumps and tried the club finesse. When this lost, the defense, cashed, in all, two spades, a heart, and a club, for a two trick set.

"Too bad, partner," was South's comment. "We had a 50-50 chance for our contract."

Actually, South's analysis had not been sound. He had better than a 50-50 chance for his contract but had not availed himself of it. The club finesse was not required to bring in the hand. All that declarer needed was a 3-2 club break to assure the contract, and such a break was much better than an even chance.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Teenager Special

Flat heels and the ballet slipper type of shoe are attractive indeed on young girls, but there is one thing wrong with them. They build tension in the calf muscles, and this has a tendency to overdevelop the legs. Watch it, teenagers. Are your legs getting too big? Are your ankles thickening? Even if you are young yet for high heels, choose a pair of Cuban heels or two for your footwear wardrobe and change off to them frequently. The slight elevation they give your foot involves a different pull on your calf muscles and will help you to avoid oversized calves. So will the right exercises. Here are two good ones, and two more to keep your ankles trim.

For the calves: 1. Sit on the floor with your legs straight out. Slide your right heel toward you until the knee is slightly bent. Then, without letting the heel leave the floor, straighten your knee sharply and slap your calf against the floor. Repeat the procedure smartly 20 times with each leg.

2. Sit on the floor, legs out and together. Stretch your feet down toward the floor. Hold it while you count five. Relax and repeat 15 times.

For the ankles: 1. Sit on a chair and cross the right knee over the left. Curl the toes of the right foot under and slowly describe ten large circles with this foot in a clockwise direction. Reverse for the other foot.

2. Sit erect on the floor with your legs stretched straight out. Try to slide your toes toward you, keeping your knees together and heels up. If you must steady your legs by placing your hands on your shins. No fewer than 25 times a day for this one.

Tomorrow—The art of saying thank you.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12 (INS)—With the whole world in a mad rush to perfect atomic bombs, Cinerama's first dramatic production, "The Eighth Day" is timely. Grant Leenhouts, vice president in charge of production, tells me that portions of the film have already been shot and comprise the launching of the atomic submarine Sea Wolf, and the hydrogen bomb blasts. "The Eighth Day" starts at the present time, and it should be a thrilling epic. Actually the beginning is the creation of the world, with a voice reciting the early verses of Genesis as the prelude. The main theme will be based on the concept that it is the bomb that keeps the peace.

The script has been approved by the Atomic Energy Commission, and the commission is extending full cooperation and use of its facilities.

Hungarian-born Eva Bartok is hysterical with joy. She has just received word that her 18-year-old cousin, Andre Utasy, arrives in Los Angeles from Hungary on the Southern Pacific today. The boy, who fought in the Hungarian underground, was able to get here by the aid of the Catholic Relief Service. He had been a student of engineering in Hungary before the uprising started. Eva will see that he continues his studies here. She has promised to look after him. He is the son of her mother's sister.

As soon as French Actress Etchika Choureaux finishes "Lafayette Escadrille" at Warners she will return home. Although she has been escorted about Hollywood by Jody McCrea, Etchika's real love is a French diplomat who had planned to fly over here before the international situation became so tense. Etchika finds it convenient not to understand when asked the man's name.

In spite of the fact that Warners are drawing up a multiple picture deal for Etchika, she tanks she go home.

They can shout it from the rooftops and argue that "sexy" and off-color movies are big at the boxoffice — and I'll never believe it. The financial history of the all-time money-makers proves otherwise.

The giants at the box office over many, many years have been "Gone With the Wind," "The Robe," "The Best Years of Our Lives," "Going My Way," "The Bells of St. Mary's" and more recently "The Greatest Show on Earth" and all of Walt Disney's films. Not one of these "champions" has been salacious or over-emphasized sex.

Any producers who might be getting the idea that a picture like "Baby Doll" might start a new trend in smutty artiness, let him review those pictures printed above and the business they've done!

Debbie showed me the five-carat diamond on a platinum chain that Eddie gave her for their first wedding anniversary. I seem always to be having dinner with the Fishers just the night they take off for somewhere. They left for Florida Monday.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dead-pan singer Virginia O'Brien, who recently made a comeback, will marry Verne Evans, Bendix aircraft executive, in June.

Because she doesn't make enough money nor enough pictures, Carol Ohmart wants out on her Paramount contract. Sympathy goes to Harrison Carroll on the serious illness of his wife. She is in good Samaritan Hospital.

Jack Lemmon, who has that gleam in his eye for Felecia Farr, bought her dinner at the Villa Capri.

Mike Connolly joins Bob Hope's Alaskan Christmas trek. Once an eye specialist himself, Julius Stein is pleased at his sister Mrs. Ruth Lowe's marriage to Dr. James Cogan, a Beverly Hills eye specialist.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Stamp Collectors' Item

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 12 (AP)—The U.N. police force in Egypt has provided an item for stamp collectors. Under franking privileges granted by the Norwegian government, Norway's soldiers are sending letters home post-marked "United Nations Emergency Force." All other soldiers here send letters to Italy and bear Italian stamps.

In 600 B. C. Greece had as many as 250 colonies.

Cards of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all those who aided and comforted us during our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and mother, Florence Rosenberg. We especially thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral and spiritual tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and Rev. Regis Larkin.

Husband and Family.

Possible Town Use Of Waste Plant Aired

Luke Mill Reveals Plans For Facility

The possibility that a $3,000,000 waste treatment plant at Luke Mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company may handle municipal wastes arose yesterday as plans for location of the huge facility were announced by John A. Luke, mill manager.

Mayor Okey E. Michael of Westernport last night appointed Water Commissioner Ray Wilt and Police Commissioner Leo Herbert as a special sewage committee to meet with Mr. Luke on Saturday. Mayor Michael said the commissioners will explore the possibilities with Mr. Luke.

The question of possible use of the plant for municipal wastes arose earlier in the day as Luke announced plans for the project at a meeting of the Piedmont Rotary Club.

In answer to a question by Harley Dixon of Piedmont, Mr. Luke said the company would be "very happy to look into the possibility" and to consider it.

The treatment plant, part of a projected $50,000,000 expansion plan for Luke Mill, will be built on company land at the end of the island east of Westernport. It will entail the latest in design and efficiency that waste treatment research and engineering have been able to develop, Mr. Luke told the Rotarians.

No Miracles Yet

Mr. Luke said the plant actually will improve the content of the Potomac River over its present condition even though effluent from the expanded mill will be considerably more than it is now. "Nonetheless," Luke said, "we don't expect to work any miracles no matter how much we would like to."

Decision to build the waste treatment plant on the island east of Westernport was reached after considerable thought and discussions with leading engineers in the field, Mr. Luke said.

Bigger Than Cumberland's

"On the basis of our plans, much of the effluent from the mill will be carried by pipeline from the mill to the waste treatment plant, and consequently will not be borne by the river through or adjacent to the three communities."

The $3,000,000 expenditure, Mr. Luke pointed out, is more than any company in the paper industry ever has spent on a single project of this kind. In addition, he said, to illustrate relative size, it is half again as large as the $2,000,000 being spent by the City of Cumberland on a sewage treatment plant which has as its objective abatement of pollution of the Potomac River.

"Just when construction of the company's waste treatment plant will start is uncertain at this time, but it certainly will be in operation when the mill expansion program is completed," he said.

Even though this latest design in waste treatment plants will not provide a perfect solution to the pollution problem, the river "will be improved, at least so far as content is concerned," he said.

Water To Be Improved

"But, and this is important, too, it may not look much better. The important thing to remember is, the condition of the water and the river will be improved. Actually, the excessive acidity of the water caused by drainage from abandoned coal mines above the mill precludes the existence of fish life regardless of our operations."

Design will follow somewhat that of the waste treatment plant at the Covington (Va.) mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company although even later developments will be included in the plant to be built for the Luke mill. The Virginia State Water Control Board nominated the Covington operation as the outstanding industrial waste plant of 1956.

Purpose of the Covington plant, as with the plant being designed for the Luke mill, is to treat the complex wastes of pulp and paper manufacturing and to protect the water resources from the effects of waste pollution.

The nutrient-fed activated sludge treatment works at Covington was the pioneering installation of its type in the paper industry. Its installation followed a period of intensive laboratory research and pilot plant studies, advantages of which will be incorporated into the Luke operation along with later and improved developments in waste treatment.

10 SHOPPING DAYS TILL Christmas

Stores Open Monday & Friday night till 9

Main Stem Wears Christmas Look

Christmas shoppers go about their business under a canopy of gaily festooned Christmas lights and decorations which have brought many favorable comments since installation was completed this week. Large Santa Claus figures are hung at intervals, and the lights present the effect of a brilliant arcade for evening shoppers.

Yule Decorations, Music Add Holiday Air To City

As the Christmas season nears, gay holiday decorations and Yule music can be seen and heard throughout the city, and residents are busy getting presents included on their shopping lists.

Baltimore Street has been gaily lighted by the Hare Neon Company which installed the multi-colored lights across the main stem.

Mill Expansion Will Provide 500 New Jobs

The $50,000,000 expansion program of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company will mean an increase of 500 persons in the working force and annual wages and benefits will total some $12,000,000.

These facts were presented to the Cumberland Conference, National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers by John A. Luke, manager of the Luke mill, at the group's monthly meeting last night at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Mr. Luke also explained some of the plans of the company to reduce air pollution. He acknowledged that the firm has a big problem but will intensify its efforts to reduce the amount of fly ash and other materials that come from the smoke stacks.

The paper mill plans to install—at a cost of $250,000—a precipitator on its new recovery boiler to remove 95 per cent of the soda in the stack.

"We've made good progress and we are going to make more, but, like stream pollution abatement and odor control, this problem presently defies a perfect solution," Mr. Luke said.

The mill manager also discussed the new residential subdivision which the firm is developing. The company has purchased 250 acres of land in the Horse Rock Hill area near the new high school in Westernport.

"We are not going to build or finance the houses to be erected on this site; that's for community enterprise, but we will develop such facilities as water, sewage, and drainage," he said. "I might interject here that we have just authorized the expenditure of $38,000 for a water tank and other improvements to this area. We will try to get back our initial investments through the sale of lots. We hope this county will build the necessary roadways and we've asked the county commissioners for that help," Mr. Luke explained.

Luther Huff, assistant cashier of the First State Bank of Grantsville, is president of the Cumberland Conference. Mr. Luke was introduced by Charles J. Laughlin, cashier of the Citizens National Bank of Westernport.

Over 500 representatives are attending the two-day meeting being held at Lancaster, Pa.

City Fireman's Appeal Heard By Commission

Natale Is Charged With Disobedience

An appeal by a city fireman who was suspended last week for three days on a charge of disobeying an order, was heard yesterday afternoon in City Hall by the Civil Service Commission, which took the case under advisement.

Eugene P. Natale, who filed the appeal, was represented by Earl E. Manges in the hearing, which lasted an hour and a half. Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, according to testimony, issued an order on the evening of November 21 that Natale and several other firemen report to Central Station at 12:45 p. m. the following day in full uniform.

Natale failed to carry out the order, while the others reported for duty. The detail involved was the manning of canisters at the Stadium on Thanksgiving Day in connection with the Muscular Dystrophy drive.

Chief Parker testified that he gave the order to Assistant Chief Robert C. Long, who in turn gave instructions to Lt. William Hartung that Natale be notified at South End Station, where he was on duty that evening. Natale, according to testimony, was notified of the order by the officer in charge, Robert Gormer, chauffeur at South End.

A number of other firemen testified in the case including Lt. Hartung, Harold Hershberger, John E. Trost and Gormer. Manges said the suspension should be rescinded as no emergency existed nor was contemplated at the time the order was given by Chief Parker.

Thomas B. Finnan, who represented the city, said Natale was given an order and should have reported for duty. Finnan added that the order did not state the detail involved.

Finnan said Natale chose to interpret the order, thus substituting the judgment of his superior. Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and a number of firemen sat in on the hearing. The commission will consider the testimony before reaching a decision.

Man Requests Trial For Rape

Robert Dale Bennett, 19, of 324 Bedford Street, who has been in Allegany County Jail since October 18 awaiting trial on a rape charge, yesterday filed a petition in Circuit Court in which he waived his right to indictment by the grand jury and requested an immediate trial by the court.

Bennett was arrested by City Detectives George Furstburg and Joseph H. Stichter on a charge of raping a 13-year-old girl October 14.

The youth is represented by Attorney Edward J. Ryan. Also placed on the open docket, in Circuit Court here yesterday was an indictment charging Robert A. Trenum of Westernport with carnal knowledge of a girl whose age was between 14 and 16 at the time.

Trenum was indicted in October 1955 and at that time was in service. The indictment remained secret until he returned home upon his discharge from service recently. The offense allegedly occurred June 9, 1955. His attorney is Earl E. Manges.

College Student Taking Part In Stunt Night

Miss Florence K. Zaks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zaks, LaVale, is participating in the 42d annual Stunt Night of Flora Stone Mather College of Western Reserve.

The program will be given to-night in Cleveland Public Music Hall and is traditionally presented before the start of the Christmas vacation.

Md. Electors Will Ballot On Monday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 12 (AP)—Maryland's nine electoral college members will meet here at noon Monday to formally cast ballots for the re-election of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Eisenhower carried Maryland by a record-breaking margin of 187-134 votes in the Nov. 6 General Election. He polled 559,737 votes to 372,603 for Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent.

Maryland's nine Republican electors—one for each senator and one for each representative from the state—were chosen at the GOP state convention in May.

Following their balloting in the reception room of the Statehouse, the electors will have lunch with Gov. McKeldin at Government House.

Horst Pelchmann, consul of the Federal Republic of Germany, is scheduled to observe the electoral process. Pelchmann, who is serving at the Philadelphia consulate, will be visiting McKeldin on Monday.

Maryland's two electors at large are Thomas B. R. Mudd of La Plata and Samuel Hopkins of Baltimore. Representing the congressional districts, one through seven, are Elmer W. Sterling of Church Hill, Mrs. Isabel Ritchey of Owings Mills, C. Edwin Roberts of Baltimore, George Douglas of Baltimore, Norwood Brown of Parole, Esther Fleishell of Silver Spring and Mrs. Tracy Moos of Baltimore.

Alexander Gets 10 To 36 Years

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Dec. 12 (AP)—Benton W. Alexander pleaded guilty today to second degree murder in the killing of his wife and was sentenced to 5 to 18 years in the State Penitentiary.

Circuit Judge Melvin C. Snyder specified that the sentence should run consecutively with a 5-18-year term handed the 42-year-old coal miner last week for the killing of Steven A. Malish.

Mrs. Alexander and Malish, in whose home the Alexanders lived, were shot to death last June 16. The shooting occurred in the Malish house, located in the Turner Douglas community six miles east of Terra Alta.

A jury in Preston County Circuit Court here last month convicted Alexander of second degree murder in Malish's death. At the trial, Alexander testified that the shooting took place after he walked into a bedroom and found his wife and Malish in an embrace.

Christmas Notices Due Saturday

Church notices for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services must be in the Times-News office not later than this Saturday.

The notices will appear in the Sunday Times of December 23.

No other news concerning services on these two days will be printed and it is necessary that the deadline be met.

These written notices should be marked "Christmas Eve and Day Services" so that they will not be confused with the regular church notices which appear on Saturdays. Notices will not be taken over the telephone.

Naval Reserve Unit Enlists Six Recruits

Naval Reserve Surface Division 5-9 enlisted six new members last Wednesday at the weekly meeting held at the Armory. New members included Kenneth W. Reiber and Willer F. Kelley, both of Cumberland; Charles E. Crowe, Frostburg; Ricardo Mellon, McCoole; Paul G. Iser, Rawlings, and Ivan L. Campbell, Keyser, W. Va.

Local Stores Report Brisk Yule Business

9-To-9 Hours To Begin Monday

Local merchants, with an eye to next week when stores will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., are looking forward to a heavy turnover of merchandise.

One local department store official said last night that he is elated with the Christmas business outlook, and that sales have increased over last year's.

He said business has held up well since last month when shoppers began getting in the mood to do their Christmas buying.

The stores are well stocked and have an array of merchandise to please shoppers. Many additional clerks have been put to work in anticipation of the Christmas rush.

A clothing store merchant pointed out yesterday that business is comparable to last year's and that a larger sales volume is expected all next week.

Unless the weatherman comes up with some snow in the next few days any yen of youngsters for sleds, ice skates or skis on Christmas morning is not likely. By the same token, the weather thus far has been favorable for the local merchants.

Local stores will be open tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and will observe similar shopping hours Monday through Saturday of next week and from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Christmas Eve.

December 26, "exchange day" for many recipients of gifts, the stores will remain open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

TB Seal Sale Contributions Total $12,953

To date, the contributions received at the office of the Allegany-Garrett County Tuberculosis Association in the current Christmas seal sale have reached $12,953.03.

This figure, according to Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary of the association, is about the same as last year at this point of the drive.

Residents who have not sent in their contributions are urged to do so as soon as possible, in order that the total may be tabulated.

Miss Reinhard pointed out that follow-up envelopes are being sent out to residents. Those persons employed at the Amcelle plant who contribute to a fund set up by the plant, are requested to return cards and mark them "Celanese."

In this manner, contributors may receive credit for their donation. Meanwhile, canisters have been distributed throughout the city and will be taken up during the final week of this month.

Glenn K. Davis is chairman of the seal sale this year. Miss Reinhard said a schedule will be arranged for the visit of the mobile x-ray unit visit to the two counties next year.

She said it will be in the county during the early part of June. One of the stops will be Frostburg State Teachers College in the latter part of May, when x-rays, free of charge will be given to those interested in being examined for tuberculosis or other chest ailments.

Local Reserve Unit Tops Nation In Bid For Trophy

Naval Reserve Surface Division 5-9, stationed at McKaig's Hill, leads all other large surface divisions in national competition for the Forrestal Trophy.

Lt. Cmdr. P. M. Arbogast, commanding officer, announced that the unit was leading at the end of the first quarter fiscal year (July 1 through September 30 of this year).

Some 300 divisions throughout the nation are competing for the trophy. Commander Arbogast pointed out the local division has maintained a strong stand in this year's competition, holding second place at the end of July, third place in August and now first place.

Factors which govern the competitive standings are on-board strength, attendance, active duty for training, and advancement.

Divisions holding the top 10 places at the end of September and their scores, are NRSD 5-9, Cumberland, 3,4086; NRSD 4-80, Cincinnati, Ohio, 3,4008; NRSD 11-37, Pasadena, Calif., 3,3496; NRSD 5-29, Covington, Ky., 3,3494; NRSD 5-11, Newport News, Va., 3,2818; NRSD 11-36, Pasadena, Calif., 3,2479; NRSD 13-24, Longview, Wash., 3,1706; NRSD 11-1, Phoenix, Ariz., 3,1320; NRSD 13-13, Seattle, Wash., 3,0499 and NRSD 9-37, Gary, Ind., 3,0263.

B&O Train To Inaugural Is Planned

GOP Committee Advocates Idea

The Allegany County Republican State Central Committee last night designated a special committee to promote a special Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train from Cumberland to Washington on Monday, January 21, for the inauguration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower for a second term.

James S. Getty, GOP committee chairman, said Earl E. Manges, this city, and David Williams of LaVale were named co-chairmen of the train committee. Dr. Alice K. Schuster, a member of the faculty of Frostburg State Teachers College, also is on the committee.

Mr. Getty explained that the railroad will make a chartered train available at a reduced rate if at least 200 persons will signify their intentions of making the trip. He urged that all interested persons contact a member of the committee on or before December 31.

The GOP committee also voted last night to hold its annual Lincoln Day dinner as near February 12 as possible at Centre Street Methodist Church if the necessary arrangements can be made with the women who will serve the dinner.

The exact date will not be determined until the nationally-known speaker has been obtained.

Two persons were recommended for the postmastership at Flintstone. Mr. Getty said they were Olie K. Teeter and Katherine Kyle. Although both were recommended, Mr. Teeter was placed first because the committee thought a veteran should receive priority.

Arbitrator Visits Plant

I. Robert Feinberg of New York conducted an arbitration hearing yesterday at the Court House involving Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, and the Celanese Corporation of America.

The case involves a safety question raised by the union opposing the practice of putting belts on donkey machines while in operation, a practice which was ordered by the company since last June. Mr. Feinberg visited the plant and witnessed both a staff member and a union member performing the operation.

Local 1874 was represented by Attorney Leslie J. Clark and Melvin J. Harris, president of the union. The company was represented by Attorney William A. Gunter and Hudson Nix and Kenneth J. Williams of the Celanese personnel department.

Mr. Feinberg will notify both parties of his decision at a later date.

School Lists Program Dates

The schedule of Christmas programs at Virginia Avenue School has been announced by Mrs. G. R. Collins, principal.

On Wednesday, December 19, at 10:30 a. m. the first and second grade rooms of Mrs. Daisie Lloyd and Mrs. Shirley Rose will present "The Friendly Bears."

Later the same day "The Night Before Christmas" will be presented at 2 p. m. by rooms three and four under the direction of Miss Mary A. Winters, and at 2:20 p. m. "The Christmas Fairy" will be given by the third and fourth grades. Miss Joan Snyder is the director.

Grade six, under the direction of Chester F. See, will present "Amahl and the Night Visitors." December 20 at 2 p. m. "Mrs. Santa Comes Into Her Own" and "Darning the Christmas Stocking," directed by Mrs. Marguerite Wilson, will be given at 2 p. m.

"The Nativity" will be enacted by the fifth and six grades December 21 at 10 a. m. Mrs. Ann Eberly and Mrs. Corlita Crowe are the directors.

United Fund Study Group Is Organized

Fact-Finding Survey Will Be Launched

Continuing its pursuit of a proposal to establish a United Fund plan of campaigning for health and charitable agencies in Cumberland, the United Fund Study Committee met last night in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The committee, comprised of 21 representative citizens, is charged with the task of making a thorough survey and study of fund-raising problems here, and of the advisability of the United Fund plan for the city.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, president of the Cumberland Community Chest, who presided, observed that over a long period of time many people had been discussing the possibility of a single fund-raising effort here to replace the constant and multiple campaigns. A meeting of some 50 or more interested persons was held last month, and Cody Pfanstiel, public relations director of the United Giver Fund of Washington, D. C., outlined the program.

Committee Is Named

As a result of this meeting, Dr. Kopp appointed a study committee, so that positive action could be taken, and a proper approach to the problem could be made.

Kenneth J. Williams, president of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce and assistant manager of the personnel department of the Celanese Corporation here, was elected temporary secretary of the Study Committee.

Upon motion of Mayor Roy W. Eves, a committee of three was chosen to select a chairman, vice chairman, secretary and two executive committee members to act for the study group. Dr. W. Royce Hodges was named chairman of this committee, along with A. Earl Johnson and T. J. Klauenberg.

Dr. Hodges called a meeting of the committee for Monday noon, after Dr. Kopp asked that the committee make its appointments not later than Tuesday, December 18.

Outlines Details

At the meeting, Dr. Kopp outlined for the study group some of the details involved and also explained that the United Fund plan has been working in many cities. He said the purpose of the committee is that of a fact-finding group to determine the flexibility of a United Fund plan for Cumberland, and to learn if the agency campaigns can be combined into one effort.

William C. Walsh, local attorney, also spoke and outlined some of the various subcommittees which will be necessary in making the survey. He explained that the task will involve considerable detail work and careful study.

Members of the United Fund Study Committee include Mrs. Harry Beneman, Edmund S. Burke, Charles S. Catherman Jr., Dr. Lillian C. Compton, Mayor Roy W. Eves, William A. Gunter, R. M. Hainsfurther, Melvin C. Harris, Chief Judge George Henderson, Dr. W. Royce Hodges, A. Earl Johnson, T. J. Klauenberg, William H. Lemmert, John J. McMullen, J. Kenneth Morgan, Lewis J. Ort, C. M. Sanner, W. T. Smith, Charles E. Bramble, William C. Walsh and Kenneth J. Williams.
